BRISTOL, Ind., July 5.—At 6 o'clock yesterday evening while about 300 of the population of Bristol were gathered on a bridge spanning the St. Joseph river watching a tub race, 100 feet of the sidewalk of the bridge went down, carrying with it 100 persons. The fall was about 30 feet and the iron fell on many. The town was crazed with excitement and in a short time the victims of the accident were all removed from the water and all the physicians throughout the surrounding country were summoned to attend the injured. MINISTER LYNCHED.

Dragged From His Pulpit by a Mob, Shot and His Throat Cut.

LAKE CITY, Fla., July 5.—Wednesday night at Hope Henry, a colored church, five miles west of here, a party of men took Robert Bennett, a young colored preacher, from the pulpit, carried him a short distance off and lynched him. When the body was found by the roadside yesterday morning the brains were shot out, the throat cut from ear to ear, and both ears cut off.

A protracted meeting was in progress at the church, and the preachers and congregation had all gone to sleep, waiting and watching with "mourners in trances," and it was just before day yesterday morning when the party entered and roused Bennett, who was asleep in the pulpit, and dragged him out over another preacher and took him away.

His offense, it is said, was an assault upon a white woman in Sewanee county recently, and from there the lynchers are said to have come. The usual warning was left attached to the body.

SPRINGING PREVENTS A LYNCHING.

A Constable Shoots a Man at a Picnic but Gets Away.

PITTSBURG, July 5.—Good springing on the part of Constable Duval at Ross grove last night prevented a lynching. Charles Baner attended a picnic yesterday. He saw a friend of his getting the worst of it in a fight and went to his assistance. Just then Constable Duval appeared and Baner tried to run away. Duval shot him in the back, inflicting what is supposed to be a fatal wound.

The crowd became so excited over the affair that a rope was procured and they started after the constable. The mob chased him until he was lost in the darkness, throwing at him any kind of missile they could find. Several shots were also fired at him, and it is reported that he was wounded.

SUICIDE OR ACCIDENT.

Charles D. Sherwood's Body Found Floating in the Lake at Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Charles D. Sherwood, ex-lieutenant governor of Minnesota, has been found dead, floating in the lake at the foot of Peck Court. It was undoubtedly a case of suicide. Mr. Sherwood came to Chicago last March to have a surgical operation performed. He was under the care of Dr. Hall of Grand Crossing. He left the Victoria hotel where he was staying and half an hour later his body was found in the water.

Twenty years ago Mr. Sherwood was one of the most prominent politicians in Minnesota. He came west from New Milford, Conn., his birthplace, in 1855, and settled at Rushford, Minn. He was a doctor by profession, but he abandoned that calling a few years later and took up the practice of law. As a lawyer Mr. Sherwood was one of the most successful in Minnesota. Mr. Sherwood entered politics early in life and his rise was almost meteoric. After serving as congressman from the Rushford district he was twice elected lieutenant governor of Minnesota. As president of the state senate he was said to be the ablest parliamentarian of his time.

Some 10 or 15 years ago Mr. Sherwood went to Tennessee, where a town was named for him. His widow and two children live there now. He was president of a lime quarry near Sherwood, and owned large tracts in that vicinity.

Mr. Sherwood became interested with General Alger of Michigan in land speculation several years ago, and together they at one time owned large holdings in Tennessee and Minnesota. It is said that Mr. Sherwood acted as counsel for General Alger for several years.

George Sherwood, the well known book publisher of this city, who died about a year ago, was a brother of the dead man.

For the last six weeks Mr. Sherwood had been confined to his room most of the time.

Two Illinois Central switchmen first saw his body floating in the lake. Papers found on the dead man's clothing served to identify him. A coroner's jury gave a verdict of drowning, but whether Mr. Sherwood committed suicide or was drowned by accident the jury was unable to say.

When Mr. Sherwood's room was searched an old silver watch was found on the bed. The timepiece had been given to him by General Tom Thumb when the latter first came into public notice.

KENTUCKY POPULISTS.

The State Convention at Louisville but Slightly Attended.

LOUISVILLE, July 5.—The Populist convention was conspicuous by the slim attendance, about 150 delegates being present. The convention was called to order at 12 o'clock by W. T. B. South, chairman of the state committee. After a few unimportant resolutions preliminary to permanent organization the convention adjourned until 2 o'clock.

When the convention met at 2 o'clock the various committees were selected by the congressional districts. There were about 200 delegates present at the afternoon session. Mr. Lewis Johnston was made permanent chairman and W. P. Marsh permanent secretary. Reports of minor committees were received. The afternoon was occupied with speeches by Professor N. V. Rork and J. B. Osbourne of Atlanta on Populist principles. Mrs. Josephine K. Henry of Versailles, Ky., addressed the convention in behalf of woman suffrage.

The convention adjourned at 5 o'clock to allow the committee on resolutions to report. The resolutions will be strong for free silver.

The convention will undoubtedly finish its work today, as no contests are looked for.

She Shot in Self-Defense.

CHATTANOOGA, July 5.—Ben Cogle and his wife Martha live on an island in the Tennessee river opposite this city, and cultivate a small truck farm. Yesterday morning Cogle forbade his wife to come to the city to witness the Fourth of July celebration, but she came nevertheless. In the afternoon, about 6 o'clock, when she returned home, Cogle began abusing her, striking her with a stick, finally seizing a hatchet and started toward her. The woman took up a shotgun standing near by and discharged the contents into Cogle's left side, killing him instantly. The woman was arrested.

Notorious Desperado Arrested.

DENISON, Tex., July 5.—Sheriff Hughes has under arrest John H. Thompson, believed to be the notorious Joab Stevens, whose bloody exploits in this and other counties are still fresh in the minds of citizens. Stevens, until recently, was believed to be dead. Fifteen years ago he killed a man at Lake Charles, La. Shortly afterward he was concerned in the killing of two men named Milton and Jones in Titus county. In 1889, near Dexter, he killed a constable named Hodge. He fled to the territory and killed a man named Coleman who was pursuing him.

Regatta After the Big Fight.

AUSTIN, Tex., July 5.—Austin will supplement the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight by giving a grand international regatta after the event. One thousand dollars will be offered for single sculls, $1,000 for double sculls and $3,000 for a four-oared shell.

DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR

A Fourth of July Parade Ends in a Pitched Battle.

AN A. P. A. EMBLEM THE CAUSE.

Sticks, Stones, Sabers and Revolvers Were Used With Fatal Effects—One Man Instantly Killed While Another One Is Dying—A Number of Others Were Badly Wounded and May Not Recover.

BOSTON, July 5.—The Fourth of July parade of the patriotic societies of Boston and vicinity at East Boston, yesterday afternoon, ended in a pitched battle between some of the paraders and the spectators, in which sticks, stones and revolvers were used with fatal effect. John W. Willis, a laborer of East Boston, one of the spectators, was shot and instantly killed; Michael Boyle of East Boston had his head split open with a club and now lies dying in a city hospital. A young man named Steward had his nose cut off with a saber in the hands of one of the paraders; Patrick Kelly sustained a severe scalp wound, whether from a club or a bullet is not known, and Officer A. S. Bates was hit in the mouth by a brick thrown by an unknown person, and lost several teeth, besides suffering from severe lacerations.

It is claimed that the trouble all resulted from the persistence of those who managed the parade in introducing a feature, a float presenting the "Little Red Schoolhouse," which, from its association as the emblem of the American Protective Association, has become obnoxious to many persons, especially those who do not sympathize with the A. P. A. movement.

The Fourth of July committee refused to permit this feature to appear in the parade, and those desiring to prevent it tried to have an order passed by the board of aldermen, but failed. So great was the interest excited by this controversy and the expressed determination of the paraders to display the schoolhouse that fully 30,000 visitors gathered at East Boston.

The police officials, in anticipation of some hostile demonstration, had a special squad of 350 men in addition to the Boston force on duty, but they marched at the head of the procession. At several points the feeling of the crowd was given vent in hisses at the 1,500 paraders and the schoolhouse, but no further demonstration was made until the rear of the parade had reached Putnam street, when the crowd tried to overturn the last carriage.

Word was sent to the front for police assistance, and a squad of 20 officers were sent back. A skirmish followed between the crowd and the officers, and Michael Doyle received a fractured skull. A man named Stewart of Brooks street had his nose cut off by a saber in the hands of Albert E. Andrews of Everett, a private in the Rosebury horse guards.

When the parade broke up and those who had participated were proceeding in companies to the ferry, in order to reach this city, a group of between 60 and 70 was surrounded on Boarder street by a crowd, who commenced hooting and throwing stones. A dozen revolvers were drawn, and in response to the fusillade of stones, eight or nine shots were fired. The firing of revolvers brought a large body of police to the spot and the mob was soon dispersed. As the scene was cleared, the officers found John Willis dead in the street with a bullet hole in his right side, and Patrick A. Kelly lying seriously wounded about the head. It was learned later that several other persons had been slightly injured, all of whom were taken away by their friends.

The police arrested Harold Brown and John Ross as the principals who did the shooting. It is claimed by six witnesses, who were taken to the stationhouse, that Brown did the shooting which killed Willis and wounded Kelly. Ross is said to have injured several others, who were taken away by their friends. Willis, the murdered man, is a laborer by occupation, and leaves a widow and six children. There is deep feeling over the affair throughout the city.

MRS. O'LEARY DEAD.

She Was the Owner of the Famous Cow That Set Chicago on Fire in 1871.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Mrs. Catherine O'Leary died yesterday. She was the owner of the famous cow which, in a barn in the rear of 137 De Koven street, on a memorable night in October, 1871, kicked over a lamp and started a blaze which cost Chicago $190,000,000.

Since the light of that historic conflagration Mrs. O'Leary's life was embittered by the popular belief that she indirectly was responsible for the loss of life and enormous destruction of property. She denied the story vigorously, and to the commission which investigated the fire and its causes, made affidavit, stating that the allegations about herself and the cow and the lamp were not true, but the world was against her. Then she became silent. Eulogies and flattering monetary offers were alike unavailing. She would say neither yea nor nay to her friends, and a request to tell the story for publication usually aroused her to a pitch of frenzy.

Sensational Elopement.

RALEIGH, July 5.—Dr. J. K. Battle of this county, aged 30, has created a sensation by eloping with and marrying the 13-year-old daughter of C. J. Bright. Marriage license was obtained by a friend who, it is said, made an incorrect statement as to the girl's age.

DESPERATE BREAK FOR LIBERTY.

Three Alleged Postoffice Thieves Escape From Ludlow Street Jail.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The three alleged postoffice thieves, Joseph Killoran, Charles Allen and Harry Russell, who are wanted at Springfield, Ill., escaped from Ludlow street jail yesterday. The prisoners were about to take their daily exercise in the yard of the jail. Keepers Edward Schmeer and Charles Schoen were in the office of the jail, the former sitting with his back to the door and Schoen was walking about the room.

The three men entered the office at the same time. Russell leveled a revolver at the head of Schoen and two others covered Schmeer with their weapons. They threatened to kill the keepers if outcry was made.

Allen took the keys from Schmeer while the other two still held their revolvers at the head of Schoen. With the keys he opened the door leading to the vestibule. The three men passed out closing the door and locking it, thus making the keepers prisoners within. These keys they then threw into the vestibule. Allen opened the front door with a large brass key and the three were in the street.

On leaving the jail Killoran, Allen and Russell stood on the steps a few feet from the door, and looking up and down the street, they hesitated a few moments, when they ran toward Broom and Lake streets, shouting loudly "Police! police!" "Stop thief!" and similar cries, creating the impression that they were in pursuit of a flying thief or thieves.

At Broome street the men separated, Allen running into Orchard street, Russell going down Broome to Essex street and Killoran running toward Orchard street to Grand street and thence in the direction of the Bowery.

John Appel, a butcher, gave chase to Allen and kept him in sight until he reached Houston street and First avenue. There Allen turned around and shouted: "If you follow me any farther I'll fill you with lead," making a motion toward his hip pocket as he uttered the threat. Appel then took to his heels, but, looking over his shoulder, saw Allen crossing First street in a diagonal direction toward the Bowery.

PLANNED TRAGEDY CARRIED OUT.

An Editor Kills His Wife, Baby and Himself With a Razor.

MEADVILLE, Mo., July 5.—S. A. Fields, until recently editor of The Post, at Polo, Mo., cut the throats of his wife and baby with a razor yesterday and then ended his own life in the same manner. The bodies were found in a garden about 200 yards from the residence of his mother-in-law, who lives near here.

Fields, his wife and little boy were visiting his mother-in-law, Mrs. William Thomas, two miles northeast of this place. They went out in the pasture, and the supposition is Fields cut his little boy's throat, then his wife's and then his own. No reason is given for the deed. A note was found on Mrs. Fields saying everything they had was to be left to her mother, Mrs. Thomas. It seems that Fields and his wife had planned the tragedy, for she went into the house after they went out and put on an old dress and then returned to the pasture.

REVENUE STOREKEEPER KILLED.

Robbery Was the Motive—Another Distillery Robbed and Burned.

RALEIGH, July 5.—Revenue officials are notified that Joseph Journey, a revenue storekeeper and gauger in Iredell county, was robbed and murdered Tuesday night by unknown persons. He was found dead near his home. He had a considerable amount of money with him when he left the distillery. Not a dollar was found in his pockets.

Murdered For His Money.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., July 5.—Out in a dense wood about 10 miles from here Charles E. Keene found the dead body of Paul E. Fisher of 1214 West Jefferson street, Louisville. In the back of the dead man's head was a wound inflicted by some blunt instrument. His gold watch and shoes were gone, but in one pocket was found $3. Fisher was 41 years of age and owned considerable property. His family say he left home to go with a camping party. When found the body was lying on its face.

The Shotgun Fell.

ATTICA, O., July 5.—Charles Hull, aged 18, loaded a gun with heavy shot yesterday morning and hung it above the door in the sitting-room of his mother's house. The gun fell to the floor and was discharged. A portion of the load struck Hull's mother in the abdomen and his young sister received the remainder in her breast. The mother will die, but it is thought her daughter will recover.

She has a crew of 27 men, all Cubans, with the exception of three Americans and two Costa Ricans. The schooner was armed with five rapid-firing modern cannon.

The ship was here for several days and it was openly known here that her destination was Cuba, but no attempt was made to delay her. The vessel and crew were photographed with the flag of Cuba Libre, showing she is in charge of a friend of Maceo.

Another vessel is fitting out on the same mission and it is reported will sail in a few days.

NEW ORLEANS, July 5.—The Pica-yune's Key West special says: "A prominent Cuban of this city received a letter last night from his brother, who is in Cuba, which states that on the 1st inst. General Maceo defeated the Spanish troops under Generals San Salcedo and Sandoval near Guantanamo. The insurgents' loss was 72 killed and wounded; the Spanish loss is much greater. The Spanish troops retreated in good shape. Maceo's men were worn out from excessive marching prior to the engagement.

The federal authorities here are on the alert to prevent filibustering expeditions leaving this port.

The fines on the British schooner Asiatic for irregularities of her papers will amount to $400.

His mother has received a brief letter via Havana, dated June 27 at Port Cardenas on the north coast, saying that he had embarked on the British steamship Andahu from New York and would soon arrive in that city. He says he has had many thrilling experiences and has been wounded in the arm, but is all right.
